OBJECTIVE

To gain valuable experience in the print journalism industry

EXPERIENCE

PLATFORM MAGAZINE

June 2017 - Present

I am the editor-in-chief at Nottingham Trent's student magazine Platform. I have been responsible for bringing it back into print, rebuilding the website on Wordpress, recruiting writers after a year of absence, editing articles and corresponding with PRs.

UNIDAYS

July 2017 – Present

Occasionally I contribute to student app UNIDAY's blog, where I write articles relevant to currently events. Working for a big company like this has improved my online writing skills immensely.

The University Paper

July 2017

I have rewritten a press release for this news outlet, in relation to an event at my university. I was offered an editorial role for the regional section of this paper, however I declined it as I felt it would clash interests with Platform Magazine.

CAMPUS SOCIETY

January 2017 - Present

I am a contributor for Tyro Magazine, a branch of popular student app Campus Society. This involves writing student-specific articles that are specific to the Nottingham area.

NOTTINGHAM POST

February 2017 – Present

I went into regional newspaper the Nottingham Post a few times, which involved collecting quotes from locals and writing a story, and rewriting press releases. I also currently do music reviews for them.

SKILLS

Writing – previously written for numerous publications

Proofreading – editing Platform has given me great skill in this

Social media – experience in using Tweetdeck, Facebook scheduling and business page

THE TAB

November 2016 – January 2017

Both articles I wrote for this student tabloid went ‘viral’ in my hometown and Nottingham. These were listicle articles, however I felt I wanted to stretch myself more so I moved on from this.

NUBI MAGAZINE

January 2015 – October 2015

For nine months I did experience at Birmingham-based lifestyle, music and fashion magazine NUBI, alongside my A-Levels. I was chosen out of 50 writers to be part of the cut-down team of 15 when I was only 16, which was a great achievement.

ADDITIONAL EXPERIENCE

I have had an audiobook published with Sony Music Entertainment, in conjunction with writing website Movellas. It is called ‘Our Years’, and you can find it on Amazon, Spotify, and other streaming services. It is a romance story that I wrote when I was fifteen. I am also having another one of my stories audio published later this year as part of this same deal. I wrote that one when I was fourteen.
